Forecast for Sunday 21 Aug 2022

Weather: Mostly cloudy with occasional light rain or showers during the morning, perhaps longer periods of drizzly rain at higher levels. The best chance of any brighter spells or breaks will be in the east. Rain is likely to become more persistent during the afternoon.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: 40%.

Low cloud and visibility: Patches of cloud above 500m, especially during the drizzly showers, perhaps lifting above the summits at times during the day, particularly further east. Mostly good visibility lower down during the daytime but poor in drizzly showers and very poor in cloud. More extensive cloud with base 400-500m and associated poor visibility during the evening.
